Pre and Post Semester Surveys

Using a guide provided by our cohort leaders, we used SurveyMonkey to ask the same questions of students enrolled in redesigned sections of HIS 15A this semester. At the beginning of the semester, the questions asked students' opinion of their previous history classes, then at the end of the semester we surveyed their experience in 15A specifically.

![Graph showing responses to questions about memorizing facts and dates.]

![Graph showing responses to questions about relevance to personal identity.]

The history I have studied in 15A has been relevant to my personal identity (that is to my sense of who I am and where I fit in society).
The history I have studied in 15A this semester has generally been boring

The history I have studied in 15A has helped me better understand the debates and current events that appear in the news media

The history I have studied in 15A this semester has helped me improve the skills I will need for long-term success in school and for my future work and career.